The editorial board of the International Journal of Information Resource Management (IJIRM) is delighted to bring to you the fourth issue of the journal for the year 2024. This publication of this journal is in response to demand from Library and Information professionals and students for a journal dedicated to management of information resources from both around the globe. The International Journal of Information Resource Management (IJIRM) is a high quality peer-review scholarly journal published quarterly in the Department of Library and Information Science, University of Nigeria, Nsukka. IJIRM is devoted to the dissemination of relevant, contemporary issues and general knowledge in all areas of library and Information resource management and related areas.

This volume, just as the previous issue, has a good mix of high quality empirical, opinion and theoretical papers. The editorial board of the journal is grateful to all who have contributed to this edition and have patiently waited for it. Articles in this volume cover many aspects of library and information science, especially on novel areas. These include papers on utilization of learning management system; contribution of CHATGPT to enhanced user interaction and assistance; use of electronic databases; diversity in library collections; information seeking behavior of cataloguers; influence of big data analytics in enhancing collaboration; and emerging trends in library and information science education and training.

These are indeed very interesting papers, and we have no doubt that these articles will meet the multifarious teaching, learning, and research interests of Library and Information professionals and students. We therefore, invite you to take time to savor this varied menu of professional literature.
